

Parship United Kingdom

General Terms and Conditions of Use

Version: 02 September 2025

The following General Terms and Conditions of Use ("Terms and Conditions") set out the contractual relationship between PE Digital GmbH, Speersort 10, 20095 Hamburg, Germany, ("Parship", "us", "our", "we") and its customers ("you") when you subscribe to and use the free-of-charge or chargeable Parship Service (defined below), whether through a mobile device, mobile application (our app) or computer.

Our terms and conditions also include the Community Guidelines, which represent supplementary rules and regulations.

Please note that different provisions may apply to contractual relationships established through third-party providers (e.g., Apple or Google, hereinafter referred to as "third-party providers").

If you are under the age of 18, you are not allowed to use the Service. Members may only use the Services for personal use – commercial use is not permitted.

By registering to or using the Parship Service, you agree to be bound by (i) these Terms and Conditions; and (ii) the contractual terms which apply if you purchase additional features, products or services offered to you as part of the Service (such as a Premium Membership) (collectively, the "Subscription Terms").

You acknowledge that we offer our Service in many different countries (you can see the list of these countries on our website) and, as such, you acknowledge that the information included in your profile will be visible to our members in all of these countries. You will also be able to search for a partner in any of these countries, not just your own country.

You also understand that we will use your personal information in accordance with our Privacy Policy (see Clause 4 below).

If you do not agree to be bound by all Subscription Terms, you will not be able to register for or use the Service.

1. Object of your Subscription

- 1.1 Once you have signed up for an account, Parship will provide you with access to an online database over which you will be able to get know other Parship registered customers (also known as members) (the "Parship Service" or "Service"). Parship is a social network that offers users the opportunity to present themselves with their own content and interact with other users. The Parship Service can only be accessed via mobile apps on iOS and Android devices (although, in the future, other operating systems may be made available), or via the Internet; and the Service includes some services that are free and some that are chargeable.
- 1.2 The online database provided by Parship contains "profiles" about Parship members, which contain content (also referred to as "data") made available by those members. You can also find more information about the types of personal information that are collected and how this information is made available to other members in our Privacy Policy (see Clause 4 below). You can see on our website those countries in which Parship offers its Service; and it is possible for our members to search for and contact other members in any of the countries in which we operate.
- 1.3 Please be aware that while we hope that by using our Service you will successfully meet and form a relationship with another Parship member, we cannot guarantee that your use of the Service will result in matrimony or any other long-term or meaningful commitment. We are not and do not act as a wedding agency in relation to our Service.

2. Access of the Service and Conclusion of your Subscription

- 2.1 To access and use the Parship Service you will need to register. To do this, you will need to provide an email address and a password of your choice. Once you have registered, you will be automatically allocated a "profile ID" (a pseudonym) and a "service password" by Parship, which will be emailed to you.
- 2.2 Once you have successfully registered, you will be able to access our free-of-charge Service ("Basic Membership").
- 2.3 At this stage, Parship will also offer various services or features that are subject to a fee. Before you sign up to purchase such services or features, we will provide you with further information about what you will be purchasing, for example, where applicable: the main characteristics of the services or features, the term of your subscription (including any extension), how to terminate your subscription, the price and any payment conditions. If you want to upgrade your Basic Membership by choosing a membership that is subject to a fee ("Premium Membership"), or access any other services or features subject to a fee, you acknowledge that by pressing the "Buy" button, you will have confirmed that you want to purchase the Premium Membership or other services or features that you have selected. Our contractual relationship for such purchases will be confirmed on the date that Parship sends you an email confirmation of your order. Please note, however, that concluding a contract with Parship is subject to the respective payment service provider verifying and processing the purchase.

In addition, in some countries, Parship offers for purchase virtual goods to extend the rights of use, in particular within the scope of the Basic Membership (e.g., Match Unlocks as described in Section 3).

- 2.4 Parship also enables its customers to make use of paid services through third-party providers (so-called "in-app purchases"). In this case, Parship remains responsible for the provision of our Service. Parship will provide you with an order confirmation regarding your Subscription Terms after any such purchase. However, any purchase and/or subscription via Apple / Google is concluded (and must be cancelled or terminated) through Apple / Google and is subject to the technical standards and principles established by Apple / Google, over which Parship has no control. As a rule, a purchase via an app store will take place when you click on "Buy now" (or a comparable button) and, when required, you enter your password or equivalent credentials (e.g., touch ID or face ID) for the app store. Your contractual relationship with Apple / Google will be confirmed on the date that Apple / Google sends you an email confirmation of your order; and Apple / Google will invoice you for any Premium Membership charges through your Apple / Google account. You will also find in the app store all the essential information that you need about your contractual relationship with Apple / Google. If you purchase a Premium Membership via the app store that is subject to automatic extension, the Premium Membership will run for a fixed term, which will automatically extend unless you terminate your subscription with Apple / Google in accordance with Apple's / Google's terms and conditions. Please note that Clauses 5.2, 5.3 and 11 (except 11.4) of these Terms and Conditions will not apply where you have purchased a Premium Membership via Apple / Google.

- 2.5 Please also see Clauses 14 and 15 below for those terms that will apply if you have downloaded our app from Apple or Google. Please also note: if you have downloaded our app from Apple's / Google's app store, Apple's/Google's app store terms of service will prevail over these Terms and Conditions if there are any differences between the two that cannot be reconciled.

3. Free-of-Charge and Chargeable Services

- 3.1 It is free to register for the Parship Service and use our Basic Membership. Once you have registered, you will be asked to answer a scientifically based questionnaire that was developed with reference to specific psychological criteria (the Parship "personality test"). Parship uses the results of the personality test as well as comprehensive statistical comparative data to automatically create your individual personality evaluation. Your personality evaluation is then included in the Parship database and automatically compared against other members' profiles on the basis of specific statistical comparison data, which enables Parship to draw conclusions about your compatibility with other members. Using this information, Parship will send you free partner recommendations in your profile and by email. You will also be able to access an online suggestion list for potential partners in your profile. This information will be provided to you as a condensed profile of the other compatible members, each containing a short description of the member, your compatibility points, along with the first name, city or town provided at registration, and a blurred photo. Please note that, as a Basic member, you will not be able to see unblurred photos of your partner recommendations. However, you may be able to see an unblurred version of your recommended partners' primary profile photos in some instances, at our discretion. By clicking on a condensed partner recommendation profile, you will be able to view the detailed profile of such member. As a basic member, the functionality of Parship is limited. For instance, basic members can generally only see photos of suggested partners in an obscured form or send messages in a restricted manner. To protect members and ensure the security of the Parship service, the number of messages is also limited (see Section 4.3 for details) and to secure our Service, as further set out in these Terms and Conditions.
- 3.2 If you purchase a Premium Membership, you will regularly receive updated partner recommendations from Parship in your profile and via email. These partner recommendations will be continuously updated to take into account any new members who have been added to our database since you became a Premium member. As a Premium member, you will be able to view your recommended partners' unblurred photos, members' job titles and first names, city or town provided at registration (regardless of whether your recommended partners are Basic or Premium members) and an indication of whether the customer is "new" to Parship. Premium membership extends the functionality of Basic membership to include additional features. In the context of their Premium membership, customers may also contact and exchange communications with other members (provided that they agree to communicate with you). Please note that we may still limit the number of communications that you can send if required in order to protect our members and to secure our Service as further set out in Clause 7 of these Terms and Conditions.

Details regarding the specific service package included in the respective Premium membership are provided in the product information made available during the purchase process.

Even with a Basic membership, purchase of virtual goods is available for individual purchase. Virtual goods can be used for individual services or for extensions of the authorizations of one's own profile. Parship reserves the right to restrict the offer of virtual goods in terms of location, time and/or personal use.

Additional terms applicable to Match Unlocks:

- Your use of Match Unlocks is subject to Clause 7 of these Terms and Conditions.
 - Match Unlocks are linked to and stored in your Basic Membership account. They cannot be transferred to a Premium Membership or other members, nor can they be traded in, exchanged for money, or used to settle outstanding payments.
 - If you purchase a Premium Membership, any unredeemed Match Unlocks pause until your Premium Membership ends and your account reverts to a Basic Membership.
 - Match Unlocks expire either 4 (four) years after purchase, 2 (two) years of inactivity on your account, or if you direct us to delete your data, whichever is earlier.
 - If you and the profile you have chosen to unlock are already able to communicate without limits, using a Match Unlock will only enable you to additionally view their photos.
- 3.3 Other chargeable services are listed under the “Membership / Prices and Services” section of the website.
- 3.4 We may change the Service: (i) to reflect changes in relevant laws and regulatory requirements; or (ii) to implement minor technical adjustments and improvements, for example to address a security threat (however, these changes will not affect your use of the Service). In addition, although we provide a description of our Service on our website, we may change the main characteristics of our Service from time to time. However, if we do this, we will notify you and you may then contact us to end your subscription before the changes take effect (and, in relation to a Premium Membership, you will receive a refund for the part of the service you have paid for but not received because of the earlier termination of your subscription).
- 3.5 Parship uses algorithmic recommendation systems in providing Parship services. More detailed information can be found here.
- 3.6 Our offers may vary depending on various factors, such as age, income, registration device or gender. The offers are personalized on the basis of automated decision-making, whereby at least two factors are always included in the weighting. Further details can be found in our privacy policy.

4. Use (incl. for advertising purposes), Transfer and Transmission of Data

- 4.1 You can find information about how we use your personal information and what our obligations are in relation to data protection in our privacy policy.
- 4.2 Parship constantly strives to protect its customers from harassment such as hacker attacks, spam or romance scamming. To this end, Parship has developed numerous technical and organizational standards to detect violations of the Community Guidelines and exclude abusive messages from circulation. Parship is therefore also authorized to use appropriate filtering or validation software. However, there is no obligation to use such software. It is the customer's responsibility to familiarize themselves with and adhere to Parship's safety tips before using the Parship service. If Parship's “Trust and Safety Team” contacts the customer regarding any anomalies, the customer is expected to respond promptly. Recommendations should be seriously considered and declined only for significant reasons. Additionally, the customer should inform Parship about any illegal or inappropriate content or behavior using the “Report Profile” function.
- 4.3 Parship is not obligated to deliver messages if there is suspicion that they violate the Community Guidelines and are therefore abusive. There is particularly no obligation to deliver messages, especially in cases where they are unsolicited advertising emails or if there is suspicion thereof. So-called spam messages are considered unsolicited advertising emails. Customers have the option to “say goodbye” to profiles. The profile that has been said goodbye to will be removed from the Discovery list (list of all contacts), and all messages exchanged with the other customer (hereinafter referred to as “chat”) will be deleted from the customer's profile. Contact cannot be reestablished thereafter. Furthermore, Parship may automatically delete unanswered messages if they were sent to profiles that have been identified as spam or involved in romance scamming, or if they have been deleted in other ways.

5. Termination/Extension

Please refer to Section 11 if you would like to cancel your Premium Membership within the 14-day cancellation/ "cooling off" period (your right to cancel).

- 5.1 You can terminate your Basic Membership at any time with immediate effect by navigating to the following section in your profile: "Data & Settings" > "Manage profile" > "Profile Status", and activating the link "here"; confirming the termination by entering your personal password. Otherwise, we will continue to provide you with the Service unless: (i) we end your subscription in accordance with these Terms and Conditions; or (ii) your account is inactive for twenty-four months following your last log-in.

If your Basic Membership has active virtual goods (e.g., Match Unlocks), you must communicate any termination to us in writing, e.g., by email to support@parship.co.uk. Please make sure to provide the email address connected to your account or profile ID, as well as your service password. If you delete your Basic Membership, any previously purchased virtual goods will also be deleted, and existing payment obligations will remain in place, subject to applicable cancellation rights (see Clause 11).

- 5.2 To terminate your Premium Membership that you purchased on our website, you will need to notify us by either: (1) logging in to the website and navigating in your profile to: "Data & Settings" > "Manage profile" > "Amend subscription", or (2) writing to us using the contact details provided below in Clause 16. Subject to Clause 5.5 and Clause 11 below, any termination of your subscription will not take effect until the end of the agreed minimum term (and, as such, you will not be entitled to any refund). Thus, to make sure that your Premium Membership does not automatically extend, you must tell us that you want to terminate your subscription before the end of your then-current subscription term. See also Clause 5.3 below. Any applicable payment obligations (either from the Premium Membership or with respect to virtual goods) remain in place notwithstanding termination of your Premium Membership.

To authenticate your identity and your termination request, you must include the following information in your termination notification:

- (1.) the email address registered in your profile, or your profile ID, and
- (2.) your service password.

Your profile ID and service password are assigned to you when you register to our Service (see Clause 2.1). You can access these at any time in your online profile in the section entitled "My Data & Settings" > "Manage Profile".

- 5.3 If you sign up for a Premium Membership through our website, your subscription will be automatically extended after your initial subscription ends (and again after any subsequent subscription period), unless you notify us in accordance with this section that you want to terminate your subscription. Any automatic extension of your initial subscription will be for the term and price you agreed to when you subscribed and which were confirmed to you in the order confirmation sent to you at that time. Within the first two weeks of any extension of your subscription, you will have the option to repeat the Parship personality test.
- 5.4 If you terminate your Premium Membership, your account will revert to a Basic Membership. If you want to terminate your Basic Membership, please follow the procedure set out in Clause 5.1.
- 5.5 Subject to Clause 3.4, if you want to terminate your Premium Membership because we have told you about an upcoming substantial change to our Service to, your subscription will end immediately after we receive your termination notice in writing and we will refund you for any portion of the Premium Membership that we have not provided. If you have purchased your Premium Membership through Apple / Google, any refund will be made in accordance with Apple's / Google's own terms as further described in Clause 2.4.
- 5.6 Clauses 5.2 and 5.3 do not apply to termination of Premium Membership purchased from Apple or Google. Please see Clause 2.4 for further information, and refer to Apple's and Google's instructions for more information on how to terminate your subscription. If you do not cancel the automatic extension of your Premium Membership via Apple / Google, you will also have the option to repeat the Parship personality test within the first two weeks of any extension of the original subscription period.

6. Functionality, Compatibility, Interoperability, Warranties, and Liability, Accessibility

- 6.1 Please be aware that although we aim to make the Parship Service available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, we cannot guarantee that the Service will be available 100% of the time. Our Service availability may be reduced due to maintenance and software updates, as well as any periods during which the Service is unavailable due to technical or other problems that are beyond Parship's control.
- 6.2 Some functions are only available via the website or app. In particular, it is not possible via the website to change your push notifications settings for your mobile device. Nor is it possible via the mobile app, inter alia, to view or edit certain information (e.g., password, profile status, personal data, email notification settings), or to use certain functions (e.g., SMS Verification). Profile deletion is currently only possible via the website and iOS app, and not via the Android app.
- 6.3 In order to be able to use the Service fully, you should use up-to-date (browser) technologies on your mobile device or computer (e.g. enable Java script, cookies, pop-ups). If you use an older operating system or internet service provider, you may have limited use of the Service. When using the app, your mobile device, operating system, or selected settings may restrict some of the app functions (e.g., push messages, distance search).
- 6.4 If we offer product updates, including updates for our Android and iOS apps, we strongly recommend that you install them as soon as possible. It is your responsibility to install such updates within a reasonable time. If you fail to do so, although we have informed you that an update is available and the consequences of not installing it, we will not be liable for any product defects resulting from your failure to install the update.
- 6.5 You are responsible for the accuracy of the information provided during your registration and when completing the Parship personality test. To the fullest extent permitted by law, Parship will not be liable for the accuracy of your results from the Parship personality test, the content of your personality evaluation, and/or your partner recommendations made as a result of your answers. If you need to update your profile or registration information, you can generally do this at any time through your profile. However, there is some information that can only be updated by contacting us using the details in Clause 16. It will also be made clear to you if you need to contact us to update specific information.
- 6.6 Parship is only responsible for the technical provision of the Parship Service (as further described in Clause 3). Parship will generally enable you to make contacts with other members. We cannot, however, guarantee that you will find a partner as a result of using the Service.
- 6.7 While we expect our members to use the Service in a kind and respectful way (and in accordance with these Terms and Conditions), Parship is not responsible for any misuse of personal information made available through the Service; any other use of the Service by its members which is contrary to these Terms and Conditions; or any use that is otherwise unauthorised or unlawful. Parship is also not responsible for any misuse of data or information by members, non-members, or any third parties where you have provided the third party with such information.
- 6.8 While Parship works hard to provide a high-quality service, Parship does not guarantee that the Service will perform perfectly at all times and cannot ensure that the Service will always be uninterrupted, secure or error-free. In particular, Parship is not liable for disruptions that affect the accessibility of the Service where such disruptions are caused by actions or events that are outside Parship's control. Furthermore, although Parship will put appropriate technical and organisational security measures in place to protect your personal information, to the fullest extent permitted by law, Parship will not be liable for any unauthorized access by third parties to your personal data (e.g. due to hackers gaining unauthorised access to our database).
- 6.9 Except as expressly provided in these Terms and Conditions, we exclude all representations, warranties, conditions and terms (whether express or implied by statute, common law or otherwise) to the fullest extent permitted by law. We accept no liability for any losses or damages which are not reasonably foreseeable arising out of or in connection with these Terms and Conditions or your use of our Service.

- 6.10 As described below in Clause 10, these exclusions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law, subject to other mandatory laws, which cannot be excluded in your country of residence. If any provision of these disclaimers and exclusions shall be unlawful, void or for any reason unenforceable, then that provision shall be deemed severable and shall not affect the validity and enforceability of the remaining provisions.
- 6.11 Nothing in these Terms and Conditions shall exclude or limit our liability for personal injury or death caused by our negligence, or fraud. In addition, these Terms and Conditions shall not limit or exclude any other liability that we are not permitted to limit or exclude under applicable law.
- 6.12 Parship strives to make the Parship service accessible in accordance with national legal provisions transposing Directive (EU) 2019/882 of the European Parliament and of the Council. More detailed information can be found in our Accessibility Statement.

7. Responsibility and Duties of the Customer

- 7.1 The customer is obligated to make all due payments to Parship or third-party providers (see Section 2.5) in a timely manner. All payments are generally due upon conclusion of the contract and must be made in advance by the customer. In the event of late payment, Parship is entitled to temporarily block access to the platform. If the customer is more than 28 days overdue with one or more payments, all outstanding payment demands up to the next possible termination date become immediately due (total maturity). The customer will be requested to pay by Parship after the occurrence of default and will be informed of the date on which the total maturity occurs if payment is not made.
- 7.2 The customer is solely responsible for the information they provide in their registration. The customer assures that the information provided in the registration is correct and describes the customer personally. Furthermore, the customer is responsible for ensuring that the information provided during registration (e.g. billing address and e-mail address) is always accurate and up to date.
- 7.3 By using the Service, you agree that you will only use the Parship Service for private and personal reasons and that you do not use or intend to use the Service for commercial reasons. You also agree that you will not use any information about third parties (including other members) that you receive through the Service for commercial or advertising purposes. You are in particular not allowed to use technological methods or processes to automatically download or otherwise access information about other members in order to use this information outside of the Parship Service (e.g. by a computer program or by copying and pasting the content). You also agree that the use of computer programs for the purpose of automatically reading files of member data (such as crawlers), is prohibited.
- 7.4 If you materially breach these Terms and Conditions and/or Community Guidelines, or otherwise breach the law in relation to your use of our Service, Parship may be entitled to claim damages in accordance with the general rules of English law.
- 7.5 You will treat emails and other messages received via or in relation to the Service confidentially and you will not disclose these messages to third parties without the consent of the sender or serious cause. The same rules also apply to any names, phone and fax numbers, home addresses, email addresses and/or URLs, or other personal information of other Parship members.
- 7.6 If you no longer wish to hear from us in relation to partner recommendations, or if you no longer want to be included as a potential partner in partner recommendations we propose to our other members (for example, because you have already found a partner), you must let us know immediately so we can remove you from our recommendations database. It is important that our database remains accurate and up-to-date, so that we can send our members useful partner recommendations (i.e. so our members do not receive partner recommendations from members who are no longer looking for a potential partner). If you do not let us know when you are no longer interested in finding a partner, this will have a detrimental effect on the quality of our Service as provided to other members.
- 7.7 The customer is encouraged to regularly and reasonably retrieve chats and profile data and to archive them on their own computer or other storage media if necessary. Parship is entitled to delete chats stored in the customer's account without further inquiry if the number of chats exceeds 5,000. In this case, Parship reserves the right to delete chats automatically in chronological order, starting with the oldest chats. Additionally, all data within a basic membership will be automatically deleted after twenty-four months from the customer's last login.

7.8 If you do not comply with the conduct requirements explained in this Clause 7, or if you fail to materially comply with any other of the Subscription Terms, we may take the following actions: we may ask you to stop your non-compliant activities (or otherwise send you a warning that your activities do not comply with our conduct requirements); we may delete any content which you have submitted via the Service in breach of any of our conduct requirements; we may suspend the provision of the Service to you (in whole or in part) until the issue is resolved (for example, while we investigate your activities); or (if it is clear to us that you are seriously misusing the Service) we may terminate the provision of the Service to you. If we decide to terminate your subscription because you have misused the Service, we will refund to you any payment that you have already made to us for any unused portion of the Premium Membership that we have not provided. However, we may still also deduct from this refund or charge you a reasonable amount as compensation for any costs we incur as a result of your non-compliance with these terms. If you have purchased your Premium Membership through Apple / Google, any refund will be made in accordance with Apple's / Google's own terms as further described in Clause 2.4.

8. Communication

- 8.1 Communication on the platform must always take place in accordance with the provisions of these Terms and Conditions, in particular those relating to security when using Parship (see section 4) and the Community Guidelines. In particular, Parship applies the principle of mutuality. If other members do not reply to the communication of a customer, further unilateral contact is generally prohibited. This applies regardless of whether limited or unlimited communication functions are activated for a profile.
- 8.2 Parship is an online service. As such, Parship will generally communicate with its members using online methods, such as email (e.g., for partner recommendation or subscription confirmations, invoices), or via screen mask in a member's logged-in profile. You can contact us by post, but only if you have any questions relating to your subscription, your payment for a Premium Membership, or in relation to the security/encryption of our email communications. As a digital service, our Service is only provided online. Therefore, you can only sign up to, use and subscribe to our Service online.

To make sure that we do not receive unauthorised requests (and to protect your account from abuse), please make sure that you provide the following information in any communications you send to us, so we can authenticate that the message has been sent by you:

- (1.) your email address registered in your profile or your profile ID; and
- (2.) your service password.

As mentioned above, your profile ID and service password are assigned to you when you register to our Service. You can access these at any time in your online profile in the section entitled "My Data & Settings" > "Manage Profile".

9. Rights of Use and Copyright

- 9.1 By using our Service, you understand and agree that Parship is the sole owner of all the rights in and related to the Service, including any rights of reproduction, distribution and processing, all copyrights, as well as the right of the intangible transmission and reproduction of the Parship website and of the content included within it. The use of any program, content, materials, trademarks as well as commercial names contained within the Service is only permitted for the purposes set out in these Terms and Conditions.
- 9.2 The user grants Parship the non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free right to use and process provided content for the purpose of analysis, classification, and commercial use, including algorithmic evaluation (e.g. for automated service design). The user grants Parship a simple, geographically, temporally, and substantively unlimited and sub-licensable right to use all content that the user provides within the Parship service, including content in the profile ("user content"). Content exchanged bilaterally between two users (e.g. messages or chats) does not qualify as user content under this provision.

Parship is particularly authorized to store, reproduce, modify, and edit user content, as well as incorporate it into databases, and publicly reproduce, stream, and make them publicly accessible. The usage right includes the right to commercial and non-commercial use for all known and unknown types of use. The following right is specifically included: the right to use on own or third-party websites / portals, apps, or in other telemedia, databases, what are known as “virtual reality” (VR) or “augmented reality” (AR) applications, NFTs, and in neural networks and AI systems. The following is particularly permitted: the use of user content in whole or in part as training, validation, prompting, input, and test data for AI systems, for example with regard to own and third-party foundation models, algorithms of AI systems, creation of captions and metadata, as well as exploitation of products generated by such AI systems. The following is also permitted: the use of user content for advertising and marketing the Parship service in any manner, including use in social media and direct marketing.

- 9.3 You understand that we have the right (but not the obligation) at our sole discretion to refuse to post, or to remove, any information that you make available on the Service; and that we have the right to change, condense or delete such content. For example, we may remove any content that violates these Terms and Conditions or is otherwise objectionable.
- 9.4 We respect the intellectual property of others and we expect our members to do the same. If you believe that any content that you see on our Service has been (or is being) used in a way which is an infringement of a third party's rights, please contact us using the contact details below (or via any other reasonable means of communication).

10. Governing Law

These Terms and Conditions shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English Law.

11. Cancellation Policy, Exclusion of the Right to Cancel

11.1 Right to Cancel

You have the right to cancel your contract, without reason, within 14 days from the date on which we sent you an email confirmation of your purchase.

To exercise your right to cancel, you must notify us using any of the contact methods detailed below:

by post: PE Digital GmbH
- Customer Service United Kingdom -
Speersort 10
D - 20095 Hamburg
Germany

or by email: support@Parship.co.uk

You must also provide us with a clear written statement of your decision to cancel your purchase. You may use the model cancellation form available below or here, however, this is not mandatory. If you prefer not to use this form, please make sure that you provide us with the information listed below under Clause 11.3.

11.2 Effects of cancellation

If you cancel your contract within the 14-day cancellation period, we will refund to you all payments that we have received from you without undue delay and in any event no later than 14 days from the day on which we were informed of your decision to cancel. We will provide this refund using the same means of payment that you used for the initial transaction, unless you have expressly agreed otherwise; and you will not be charged for this refund.

11.3 Please make sure that you provide us for a clear identification with the following two indication

- (1.) the email address registered in your profile or your profile ID; and
- (2.) your service password (not login password).

11.4 Clauses 11.1 to 11.3 do not apply to cancellation of Premium Membership purchased from Apple via the iOS app or Google via the Android app. Please see Clause 2.4 for further information. Apple / Google may also provide additional mechanisms for you to cancel your subscription. To cancel your Premium Membership purchased from Apple via the iOS app or Google via the Android app, please see their instructions for cancelling available for Apple here and for Google here.

12. Your legal rights

You are entitled for the Service to be as described, fit for purpose, and of satisfactory quality. If you purchase a Premium Membership and the content that we provide to you is faulty, you are entitled to a repair or replacement; or, if the fault cannot be fixed, or if it cannot be fixed in a reasonable time and without significant inconvenience, you may be entitled to a full or partial refund. If you can show that the fault has damaged your device and we have not used reasonable care and skill, you may be entitled to a repair or compensation.

13. Miscellaneous

- 13.1 Parship may use third-party service providers and agents, including entities belonging to our group, to help us provide the Service to you.
- 13.2 Should any provision of the Subscription Terms be or become invalid, or should they be incomplete, it shall not affect the validity of the remaining content of the Subscription Terms.
- 13.3 The language of the Subscription Terms is English.
- 13.4 We will not automatically store a copy of your Subscription Terms with Parship. As such, you should save a copy on your computer, or otherwise store a copy of your Subscription Terms at the time your contract is concluded. These Terms and Conditions are accessible on our website and our app; and we will provide you with a copy of the then-current Terms and Conditions by email in your confirmation email when you register for a Premium Membership.
- 13.5 You may not assign or sub-contract any of your rights or obligations under the Subscription Terms to any third party unless we agree in writing.

We may assign, transfer or sub-contract any of our rights or obligations under the Subscription Terms to any third party at our discretion. However, where we have engaged a third party to perform part of the contract with you, we remain liable towards you for the full performance of our agreement and also for the performance by the third party.

Parship's subsidiaries and group companies are third party beneficiaries of these Terms and Conditions. You, Parship and our subsidiaries and group companies may enforce the Subscription Terms in accordance with the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999. Apart from this (but subject to Clauses 14 and 15 below), no other person has rights under the Contract (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to enforce the Subscription Terms.

- 13.7 Please note that we reserve the right to change and update these Terms and Conditions from time to time. However, the Subscription Terms that will apply to you are either: (i) the Subscription Terms provided on the date that we confirm your order (for Premium members); (ii) the Terms and Conditions in force on the date of registration (for Basic members); or (iii) the Terms and Conditions in force on the date you become again a Basic member (at the end of your Premium Membership).

14. Additional Terms which apply if you have downloaded our app from Apple's App Store

- 14.1 This section contains additional terms that apply to you if you have downloaded our app from Apple's App Store.
- 14.2 With respect to the relationship between Parship and Apple, the responsibility for our app is allocated as follows:
 - These Terms and Conditions are between you and Parship. These Terms and Conditions are not between you and Apple.
 - Parship, not Apple, is solely responsible for our app and its content. Our responsibilities and liabilities to you are explained in the other sections of these Terms and Conditions.
 - Apple has no obligation to provide any maintenance or support services for our app.

- Parship, not Apple, is responsible for any product warranties in relation to our app.
- If our app does not conform to any applicable warranty, you may notify Apple, and - if you have made a purchase - Apple will refund you that purchase price. Apple has no other warranty obligation in respect of our app. Any other claim that you might have in relation to our app is our sole responsibility (and not Apple's) and will be determined in accordance with applicable law and these Terms and Conditions.
- Parship, not Apple, is responsible for addressing any claim by you or a third party relating to our app, or your use or possession of our app. This includes: (i) product liability claims; (ii) any claim that our app does not comply with any applicable legal or regulatory requirement; and (iii) any claims arising under consumer protection, privacy or similar laws.
- If a third-party claims that our app, or your use or possession of our app, infringes that third party's intellectual property rights, we, not Apple, will be solely responsible for the investigation, defence, settlement, and/or discharge of any such claim.

14.3 If you downloaded our app from Apple's App Store, you also represent and warrant that:

- (i) you are not located in a country that is subject to a U.S. Government embargo, or that has been designated by the U.S. Government as a "terrorist supporting" country; and
- (ii) you are not listed on any U.S. Government list of prohibited or restricted parties.

14.4 You must comply with any applicable third-party terms when using our app (for example, you must not be in violation of your wireless data service terms when using our app).

14.5 You must use our app in accordance with the Usage Rules in the current Apple's App Store Terms of Service available here.

14.6 You will only use our app on an Apple-branded device.

14.7 Apple and Apple's subsidiaries are third party beneficiaries of these Terms and Conditions. Apple and its subsidiaries may enforce these Terms and Conditions in accordance with the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999. There is no requirement to obtain consent from Apple, any Apple subsidiary or any other person who is not a party to these and Conditions in order to rescind, vary, suspend, enforce or terminate these General Terms and Conditions, or to assign or transfer any rights or obligations, or to grant any waiver under these Terms and Conditions.

15. Additional Terms which apply if you have downloaded our app from GooglePlay

15.1 This section contains additional terms that apply to you if you have downloaded our app from GooglePlay.

15.2 With respect to the relationship between Parship and Google, the responsibility for our app is allocated as follows:

- These Terms and Conditions are between you and Parship. These Terms and Conditions are not between you and Google.
- Parship, not Google, is solely responsible for our app, its content and our Service. Our responsibilities and liabilities to you are explained in the other sections of these Terms and Conditions. Google has no obligation or liability to you with respect to our app or these Terms and Conditions.
- You should contact us, not Google, if you have any problems when using our app, or if you want to let us know about any errors or performance issues with our app.

15.3 If you have downloaded our app from GooglePlay, you must also use our app in accordance with the current Android Market Terms of Service available here.

15.4 Google is a third-party beneficiary of these Terms. Google may enforce these Terms and Conditions in accordance with the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.
